Dear Friends,

Are you ready to proclaim the Gospel by being a Missionary? The establishment of the Kingdom of God depends on each one of us. God wants of us to build this Kingdom in our homes, in our work places and in our hearts. Jesus' instructions to His disciples are still applicable to all of us. There are times, wherein we will be accepted when we speak of God and His Kingdom. There are also times and situations, wherein we will not be accepted by the world.

When Jesus prepared His disciples for the future mission of the Church, He didn't want them to depend on the resources and wealth but on the Divine Providence. He gave the gift of peace to them to carry into the world. We are still in need of this peace in our world. The world is still in the brink of war all the time. We are called to be the messengers of peace in our world.

Our enthusiasm could be tackled by the negativity in the world. Political correctness has taken every sphere of life by storm. People are afraid of truth because it challenges them to lead a better way of life. But only Truth will set you free. (Jn 8:31). Jesus knew well that the message of the Gospel may not be accepted by all that is why He gives the example of what will happen when the Gospel is not accepted by the example of Sodom. The warning is not to make us afraid but to make us aware so that we don't make the same mistake like the people of Sodom.

Let us heed to the voice of our Saviour who wants of us to believe in the Gospel thus attaining eternal life.

God bless..

Kind Regards,

Fr. Suresh Kumar

THE SEVEN SACRAMENTS OF THE CHURCH, from the Catechism of the Catholic Church

How do the Sacraments affect our daily lives?

SECTION TWO: THE SEVEN SACRAMENTS OF THE CHURCH,

Chapter One: The Sacraments of Christian Initiation:

Article 3: THE SACRAMENT OF THE HOLY EUCHARIST

III. The Eucharist in the Economy of Salvation

The signs of bread and wine

1333 At the heart of the Eucharistic celebration are the bread and wine that, by the words of Christ and the invocation of the Holy Spirit, become Christ's Body and Blood. Faithful to the Lord's command the Church continues to do, in his memory and until his glorious return, what he did on the eve of his Passion: "He took bread...." "He took the cup filled with wine...." the signs of bread and wine become, in a way surpassing understanding, the Body and Blood of Christ; they continue also to signify the goodness of creation. Thus in the Offertory we give thanks to the Creator for bread and wine,¹⁵² fruit of the "work of human hands," but above all as "fruit of the earth" and "of the vine" - gifts of the Creator. the Church sees in the gesture of the king-priest Melchizedek, who "brought out bread and wine," a prefiguring of her own offering.¹⁵³

1334 In the Old Covenant bread and wine were offered in sacrifice among the first fruits of the earth as a sign of grateful acknowledgment to the Creator. But they also received a new significance in the context of the Exodus: the unleavened bread that Israel eats every year at Passover commemorates the haste of the departure that liberated them from Egypt; the remembrance of the manna in the desert will always recall to Israel that it lives by the bread of the Word of God;¹⁵⁴ their daily bread is the fruit of the promised land, the pledge of God's faithfulness to his promises. The "cup of blessing"¹⁵⁵ at the end of the Jewish Passover meal adds to the festive joy of wine an eschatological dimension: the messianic expectation of the rebuilding of Jerusalem. When Jesus instituted the Eucharist, he gave a new and definitive meaning to the blessing of the bread and the cup.

1335 The miracles of the multiplication of the loaves, when the Lord says the blessing, breaks and distributes the loaves through his disciples to feed the multitude, prefigure the superabundance of this unique bread of his Eucharist.¹⁵⁶ The sign of water turned into wine at Cana already announces the Hour of Jesus' glorification. It makes manifest the fulfillment of the wedding feast in the Father's kingdom, where the faithful will drink the new wine that has become the Blood of Christ.¹⁵⁷

NEXT WEEKEND: CATHOLIC MISSION COLLECTION

Next weekend our parish will be holding the annual Catholic Mission Church Appeal. This year we are invited to partner with the Church in Ghana.

In line with traditional beliefs, in parts of Ghana, children born with a disability, or whose mother passes during childbirth, are considered to be 'spirit children', and thus at risk of being harmed or killed. The Church in Ghana is dedicated to protecting these children and educating families to ensure every child has a chance to live a full life. Sister Stan and the Nazareth Home for God's Children is leading these efforts in the diocese of Yendi.
