Dear Friends,

“Your Faith has saved you”. Jesus said these words to many people after He had cured them of their sickness. When people approached Jesus for His help, He didn't discriminate whether they were believers or nonbelievers. But certainly, they acquired Faith in God when they were healed. That is why Jesus acknowledged their faith by saying that their Faith had saved them. In the first reading of today, we see Naaman who was cured of his leprosy. Though there were many lepers at that time, God sent Elisha the prophet to Naaman. Ever since Naaman experienced the healing, he changed his way of life and made a resolution that he would worship the Lord rather than anything else in the world.

In the same way, the Gospel speaks of ten lepers who were healed by Jesus. Jesus felt pity on them and cured them all. It was really disappointing to see just one person return back to Jesus to give thanks to God. The other nine went away taking God's goodness for granted. The one who came back to give thanks to God was a Samaritan who didn't believe in God. Though he didn't believe in God, he had an attitude of gratitude to God for what God had done for him. Jesus acknowledged him by asking where the other nine were who had been healed.

Our faith is a gift and we cannot take this faith for granted. We need to be grateful to God for our faith. Our faith teaches us about God and His love for us. All that we have and all that we are come from God. Are we grateful to Him? At times, we don't deserve those blessings from God and yet, God looks after us and blesses us abundantly. As believers we should do better than others. Our faith has to be lived out each and every day of our lives. We are called to be messengers of love.

God Bless.

Kind regards,

Fr. Suresh Kumar.

Parish Priest.

How do the Sacraments affect our daily lives?

SECTION TWO: THE SEVEN SACRAMENTS OF THE CHURCH, Chapter One: The Sacraments of Christian Initiation: Article 3: THE SACRAMENT OF THE HOLY EUCHARIST

VI. The Paschal Banquet

1387 To prepare for worthy reception of this sacrament, the faithful should observe the fast required in their Church.²¹⁸ Bodily demeanour (gestures, clothing) ought to convey the respect, solemnity, and joy of this moment when Christ becomes our guest.

1388 It is in keeping with the very meaning of the Eucharist that the faithful, if they have the required dispositions, receive communion each time they participate in the Mass.²¹⁹ As the Second Vatican Council says: "That more perfect form of participation in the Mass whereby the faithful, after the priest's communion, receive the Lord's Body from the same sacrifice, is warmly recommended."²²⁰

1389 The Church obliges the faithful "to take part in the Divine Liturgy on Sundays and feast days" and, prepared by the sacrament of Reconciliation, to receive the Eucharist at least once a year, if possible during the Easter season.²²¹ But the Church strongly encourages the faithful to receive the holy Eucharist on Sundays and feast days, or more often still, even daily.

1390 Since Christ is sacramentally present under each of the species, communion under the species of bread alone makes it possible to receive all the fruit of Eucharistic grace. For pastoral reasons this manner of receiving communion has been legitimately established as the most common form in the Latin rite. But "the sign of communion is more complete when given under both kinds, since in that form the sign of the Eucharistic meal appears more clearly."²²² This is the usual form of receiving communion in the Eastern rites.

The fruits of Holy Communion

1391 Holy Communion augments our union with Christ. the principal fruit of receiving the Eucharist in Holy Communion is an intimate union with Christ Jesus. Indeed, the Lord said: "He who eats my flesh and drinks my blood abides in me, and I in him."²²³ Life in Christ has its foundation in the Eucharistic banquet: "As the living Father sent me, and I live because of the Father, so he who eats me will live because of me."²²⁴

On the feasts of the Lord, when the faithful receive the Body of the Son, they proclaim to one another the Good News that the first fruits of life have been given, as when the angel said to Mary Magdalene, "Christ is risen!" Now too are life and resurrection conferred on whoever receives Christ.²²⁵
